ATTACK REPULSED BY BRITISH FORCES

Germans Gained Nothing by Attempt They Made to North of Ypres

FRENCH TROOPS MADE GAIN IN THE ARGONNE

Fortifications of Altkirch, Alsace, Were Bombed Heavily by French Guns

London, May 4.—German official advices concerning the operations on the western front confirm the French and British reports of attacks by the invaders on St. Julien, but nothing is said about the assertion of the allies that Hill No. 60 again is the object of the German offensive.

Paris, May 4.—The French war office this afternoon gave out the following report on the progress of hostilities: "There was a German attack yesterday evening on the British front to the north of Ypres. The Germans were driven back by our allies. "In the Argonne, near Bagatelle, we delivered an attack which resulted in the gaining of ground."

Paris, May 4.—The following official statement was issued by the war office last night: "There is nothing to report except the repulse of two German attacks last night—one against the British troops to the north of Ypres, and the other against the French troops in the forest of Le Pretre."

Basel, May 4.—The fortifications of Altkirch, in Upper Alsace, were bombed heavily by the French artillery last Saturday. On Sunday the French guns continued firing in the direction of Cernay. The result of this activity has not yet been made known.

INTEREST CENTRES IN WEST GALICIA

Russians' Confidence Has Not Been Disturbed by Enemy's Fresh Attempt

London, May 4.—The reported Russian reverse in Western Galicia took precedence over all other phases of the war to-day and even overshadowed discussion of the budget. Striking an average between Austrian and German official accounts, London newspapers agree that the Russians must have been pushed back a considerable distance along the front which runs north and south for a distance of about sixty miles from the Carpathians to the border of Russian Poland. Petrograd expresses little concern over the situation, although admitting that the Austro-German forces are making strong attacks along the front, on which they claim a great victory.

London, May 4.—German claims of a crushing defeat of the Russian centre are exaggerated accounts of local successes, in the opinion of the Daily Mail's military correspondent, who says: "Such exaggerated claims are to be expected in view of the necessity of influencing wavering neutrals. Nevertheless the German offensive against the Russian centre long has been expected. For the past month the Germans have been moving men to Cracow. "That such a manoeuvre as piercing the Russian centre was envisaged at the same time as serious attacks towards Riga and Ypres shows the resources and audacity of the German staff. If the Russian front has been pierced and a serious reverse suffered, the war will be prolonged greatly, but that any German success, however great, will affect the resistance of Russia cannot be believed."

London, May 4.—A dispatch to the Times dated Monday says: "The Austrian advance at Cieszkowice, in the Carpathians, although checked, is deemed to be highly symptomatic. Cieszkowice is situated near Gorlice and Tarnow, on the roads from Tynbark to Cracow, and the enemy's movements here are of no less importance than at Strzy and other sections of our front. "The Austrians have continued their advance, following the arrival of reinforcements from the interior. Their advance was facilitated by the open character of the terrain, which is admirably adapted to fighting. The enemy set himself the task not only of dislodging us from the line of the Donaj, but of influencing our position on the lower Nida."

Vienna, May 4.—Thirty thousand Russian soldiers, twenty-two cannon and sixty-four guns were captured in the battle of West Galicia, according to an official statement given out in Vienna this afternoon.

TROOPS ADVANCING INTO THE INTERIOR

British Report on Operations of Forces on Gallipoli Peninsula

VERY HEAVY LOSSES INFLECTED ON ENEMY

Turks Brought Up Fresh Troops, but All Attacks Failed

London, May 4.—British troops now are advancing into the interior of the Gallipoli Peninsula, according to an official statement issued in London this evening.

The statement is as follows: "During the night of May 1-2 and the night of May 2-3 the enemy launched strong and determined attacks in mass against our positions, constantly bringing up fresh troops. "Not only did the allies repulse every attack, inflicting enormous losses on the enemy, but we assumed the offensive, drove the enemy out of his positions and now are advancing into the interior of the peninsula."

Paris, May 4.—"The operations of the allies against the Dardanelles are developing favourably, according to information reaching here from different sources," says the Athens correspondent of the Haxas Agency. "Heavy fighting continues in which the Turks constantly are being worsted. The guns of the fleet are lending efficacious aid to the troops. The allies have occupied several villages which are in ruins. The Turks, it seems, burn villages as they retire."

London, May 4.—Russia again is co-operating in the attack on Constantinople by renewing bombardment of the Bosphorus forts.

SECOND WAR BUDGET INTRODUCED TO-DAY

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Chancellor of Exchequer, Outlined Britain's Position

London, May 4.—In the House of Commons to-day Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced his second war budget, the first having been presented in November, to tide over the interval until the end of the fiscal year.

Vast as were the figures presented by the chancellor to-day, in all probability it will be necessary to introduce a supplementary budget six months hence. Mr. Lloyd George estimated that the total revenue for the year 1915-1916 would be £270,182,000. This is an increase of £43,638,000 over the total of last year.

On the basis of a six-months' war, the chancellor continued, the expenditure for the war, apart from advances to the allies of Great Britain, would rise to £2,100,000,000, and the net deficit would be £514,346,000. On the basis of a twelve-months' war the net deficit would be £862,332,000. "That is the sum the country will have to raise in addition to the government's revenue during the course of the present year," he said.

The chancellor gave an indication of the colossal expenditure he had to provide for in his opening statement. "Up to the end of the fiscal year," he said, "the net cost of the war has been over £307,000,000. He believed a review of the financial situation would help the public to understand the immensity of the task undertaken."

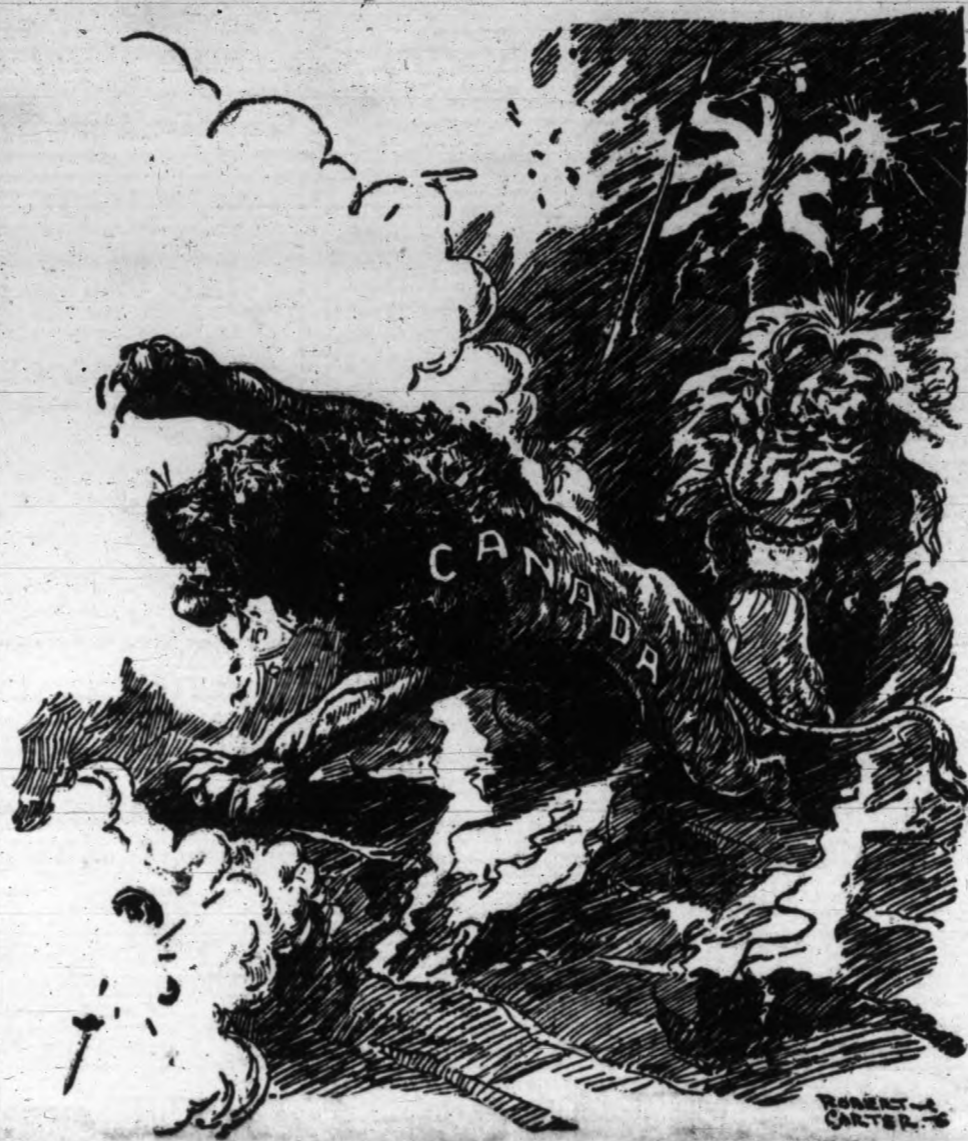

"The ultimate issue of the war is not in doubt, only its duration," said the chancellor, and this it was which rendered his task difficult. Much depended, the chancellor continued, upon the operations of the next two or three months. Experts gave various predictions as to the duration of the war, but the best of them could not tell how long it would last. The operations of the summer alone could give the government a dependable position.

The first eight months of the war has cost net £307,000,000, he said. The cost was a progressive one. The first four months had cost £102,000,000, the second four months £177,000,000.

One of the most important announcements made by the chancellor was that no fresh taxes were contemplated now. In this connection he called attention to what he characterized the wonderful buoyancy of the income tax and the super-tax, the actual yield being £68,359,000, or an increase of nearly £5,000,000 over the estimates. He said that the income tax would be renewed in its present form with a slight modification, but warned the House that if the war were prolonged more.

PRINCE VON BUELOW MADE NEW PROPOSALS

Called on Italian Foreign Minister; Cabinet Met at Rome To-day

Rome, May 4.—The decision of King Victor Emmanuel and the members of the ministry not to take part in the ceremony of the unveiling of the Garibaldi monument at Quarto Sant Elena is being commented on to-day as a step of very great significance. The presence of his majesty at the unveiling had come to be regarded as tantamount to a declaration of war. Now the change in the king's plans is regarded as meaning that the participation of Italy in the European conflict again has been postponed. Hope has been entertained by the pacifists that the efforts of Italy to arrange a peaceful solution of her problems may be successful ultimately.

"In view of the international situation, the king and his ministers cannot leave the capital to be present at the unveiling of the Garibaldi monument at Quarto Sant Elena," was the text of the note issued after the meeting of the cabinet yesterday.

The abandonment of the plan for the participation of King Victor Emmanuel and his officials in the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling is believed to have been the result of a call made by Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, on Foreign Minister Sonnino on Sunday night.

The censors have forbidden the transmission of any comment. Correspondents are permitted to say, however, that Prince von Buelow made new proposals on Sunday night to Baron Sonnino. These proposals were submitted yesterday to the cabinet ministers, who held another council meeting to-day.

An official of the foreign office is reported to have stated that the decision of the king and the ministers not to attend the unveiling of the monument was due entirely to the situation in Tripoli, where Italy might be forced to adopt extreme measures to protect her colony, where German agents were fomenting rebellion."

London, May 4.—Italy is occupying the centre of the diplomatic stage, but there is little in the way of authentic news from Rome. Latest information is that negotiations between Italy and Austria, after being broken off as the result of a deadlock, have been resumed once more.

CHANCELLOR'S ESTIMATE OF COST OF THE WAR

London, May 4.—In representing the budget to the House of Commons to-day Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, estimated that if the war lasted during the whole of the fiscal year, Great Britain's expenditure in that time would be £2,386,484,000. Mr. Lloyd George said that if the war should last six months instead of a year, Great Britain's estimated expenditures would be £790,458,000.

TWO KILLED WHEN SHIP WAS TORPEDOED

British Steamship Minterne Was Sunk Off Scilly Islands; Survivors Landed

London, May 4.—The British steamship Minterne, from Cardiff for the river Platte with six thousand tons of coal, was torpedoed off the Scilly Islands on Monday. Two firemen were killed and the second engineer was injured. The wounded engineer and the remainder of the crew have been landed at Penzance.

The striking of the torpedo was the first intimation that a submarine was in the neighborhood. The force of the explosion hurled the second engineer through the aperture made in the ship's deck. The crew took to the small boats, finally being rescued by fishermen.

The Minterne was of 1,905 tons net and was 330 feet long. She was built in 1903 and was owned in London.

TOLD TO SINK EVERY AMERICAN VESSEL SEEN

London, May 4.—The Financial News to-day printed the following: "It is reported from a Dutch source that German submarines have been ordered to sink every American vessel sighted, especially passenger liners, regardless of American loss of life, to demonstrate the impotence of the United States."

TO EXTEND PLANT

Kingston, Ont., May 4.—It is announced that the Canadian Locomotive Company is to make a large addition to its plant here as it is expected there will be a big demand from Canadian railways for locomotives as soon as the war is over.

VISITED WOUNDED CANADIAN SOLDIERS

First Lord of Admiralty and His Wife at Cliveden; a Private's Story

London, May 4.—Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill and Mrs. Churchill visited the wounded Canadians at Cliveden hospital on Sunday afternoon and spent a considerable time with the men, who number about 50. Although they include some serious cases, all are reported to be making satisfactory progress.

Private J. C. H. Watson, of the 90th Winnipeg Rifles, told an interesting story of the advance by that corps, under Lieut.-Colonel Lipsett, during the fighting around Ypres.

"The Germans, as we made the advance," he said, "appeared to be swept by machine guns. Col. Lipsett was in front, coolly encouraging us by shouting, 'Come on, boys.' We succeeded in reaching a trench, but just as I got in a shrapnel shell burst and a piece struck my left arm. I felt a strange sensation in the limb, but I stood up. Col. Lipsett was near by and shouted to me to come over. The firing at that moment was terrific. I went to him and he coolly took out my bandage, and amid the bursting shells bandaged my arm."

"After this he suggested that I should go back to a farm house building some distance to the rear. This I succeeded in doing, and subsequently, with another wounded soldier, I proceeded to St. Julien and afterwards to Ypres."

"At Ypres we made an interesting discovery on entering a chemist's store. In the cellar everything was laid out for a meal, and we had a splendid feed. The occupants of the house evidently had become alarmed as a result of the shelling of the town by the Germans. After the meal we discovered red beds with silk coverlets, and turned in. Being wounded, we could not remove our boots, so we lay down as we had come from the trenches and remained there until 8 o'clock on Monday morning. We then walked to Poperinghe."

A supply of cigarettes sent to the Cliveden hospital by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught gave great pleasure to the men.

ATTACKS FAILED

Cettigne, May 4.—The Montenegrin official statement to-day says: "The Austrians are showing renewed activity along the entire front, but we have repulsed all their attacks."

GOVERNOR-GENERAL OPPOSES PLAN TO SPLIT THE COUNTRY

Does Not Wish to Grant Dissolution of Parliament While Canada is Helping the Empire to Win the War; Hon. C. J. Doherty's Statement at Conservative Meeting at Sherbrooke, Que.; Winnipeg Citizens Enter Protest.

Winnipeg, May 4.—The correspondent of the Winnipeg Free Press at Sherbrooke, Que., says:

"At a Conservative meeting here on Saturday, Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, said that the government was preparing for a general election. The persistent opposition of the governor-general to the signing of an order for the dissolution of parliament while the country was at war was the greatest obstacle in the way of the government."

"The government had spent $100,000,000 and another $100,000,000 was to be spent and the government wanted to know if the people were satisfied with its actions. An appeal to the people therefore was necessary, he declared."

Winnipeg citizens, declared to be non-partisan, was held in the Winnipeg Theatre last night to register a protest against a general election during the war. Prominent electors of all shades of political leanings were among the speakers, and the meeting was presided over by R. L. Richardson and E. D. Martin. R. W. Craig, Arthur Congdon, Rev. Dr. Bland, G. Fisher and others were among the speakers. Resolutions of protest were adopted and copies were forwarded to the prime minister and the Leader of the Opposition.

Ottawa, May 4.—J. S. Ewart, K. C., has addressed an open letter to the prime minister objecting to the holding of an election. Mr. Ewart admits that in pledging Canada's participation in a great war the government acted without mandate and that for the immediate submission of its action to the people something of a precedent could have been cited. He maintains, however, that as the people are unanimous in their support of the Motherland, the time when such an appeal should have been taken has gone by.

C. N. R. HAS FAILED TO PAY DIVIDEND

London, May 4.—The Canadian Northern Railway Company has failed to pay the dividend due on May 2 on the £5,000,000 issue of five per cent twenty-year income charge convertible debentures stock. In making this announcement the directors say that they see no prospect of paying the next semi-annual dividend on this issue, due on November 2, but that they hope to resume dividend payments next year. The stock is non-cumulative and therefore the holders must count on the total loss of this year's dividends.

ASKED FOR AID

Syracuse, N. Y., May 4.—That William Barnes told him Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, had asked for help in 1911 to defeat a direct primary bill in the state legislature and that the then chairman of the Republican state committee had answered that he would refuse the aid asked and had remarked he would not "pull the Tammany Hall leader's chestnuts from the fire," was the testimony given in the supreme court here yesterday by Walter T. Arndt, formerly Albany correspondent of a New York newspaper.

WHAT HON. R. ROGERS SAID AT MONTREAL

Indicated Approach of General Election, but Gave No Date

Montreal, May 4.—Addressing the Liberal-Conservative association of Montreal yesterday, Hon. Robert Rogers indicated unmistakably the early approach of a general election, although no date was mentioned. Mr. Rogers severely criticized the action of the opposition press, which he said, had descended to the very lowest possible level.

He blamed the opposition and its press, with the aid of the irresponsible majority in the upper chamber, for preventing the government from carrying out its imperial policy two years ago. In view of this action the government, he said, had decided to appeal to the people last September, but the plans had been changed by the outbreak of war. If the opposition had played a loyal part, said Mr. Rogers, and assisted the government in the emergency, there would have been no talk about an election at the present time, but the Liberals had opposed the government's war policy vigorously, and had made strenuous opposition to the government's proposal to raise money for war purposes through the tariff.

Mr. Rogers said that the government was not in a position to call an election at the present time, but that it was determined to do so as soon as possible.

Driver Says That A. Ryerson Reached 9th Battery With Four Wagons; Wounded

London, May 4.—The following was narrated to a Canadian Associated Press correspondent by Driver Leonard Sparks, of the Ninth battery, now in a Canadian hospital on the continent:

"On Thursday night I was sent back to act as a means of communication between the Ninth battery, which practically was cut off, and the ammunition supply. About 11 o'clock I got in touch with about twelve wagons containing ammunition, under command of Lieut. Arthur Ryerson. I warned him that the battery was cut off by the enemy in great force and that it was all but impossible to get through. He persisted and got through to the battery with four wagons, bringing them out safely."

"Later I was sent by Colonel Mitchell to carry a message to the Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth batteries. On my return a sergeant told me Lieut. Ryerson had been wounded."

"The German attack was very fierce, their artillery fire being directed by an aeroplane over our position. One heavy shell found our dug-out, killing a sergeant and four men and injuring seven more."

"We were compelled to abandon four guns, but, as you know, we recovered them."

LESS DRINKING NOW THAN BEFORE THE WAR

London, May 4.—Will Crooks, Labor leader in the House of Commons, declares in a newspaper interview that there is less drinking in England now than there was before the war and that Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was mistaken in the statements he made regarding the subject.

Mr. Crooks asserts that, if less work is being done at private shipyards, some cause other than drinking must be sought and that this accusation has been spread broadcast by employers to cover up their own shortcomings.

"What's the shape of the earth?" asked the teacher, suddenly calling upon Willie. "Round," "How do you know it's round?" "All right," said Willie; "it's square then. I don't want to start any argument about it."

GERMANS TUPEFIED BY THEIR OWN GAS

London, May 4.—That the Germans used asphyxiating gases, not only on the first day of the battle at Ypres, but repeatedly afterward, and that many of their infantry men were affected and were unable to join in the charges, is declared by the British eyewitness in his story of the latest stages of the battle.

The turning point in the battle, he says, came on the afternoon of April 26, when, after the Germans had delivered a number of fierce assaults and had pierced the allied lines, a strong combined counter-attack was carried on by the French and British along the whole front from Steenstraete to St. Julien. This caused a definite check to the German offensive, relieved the pressure and regained a certain amount of ground.

"During this counter-attack," says the chronicler, "the guns on both sides of this comparatively narrow front poured in a great volume of fire. From the right came the roar of the British batteries; from the left the rolling thunder of the Soixante-Quinze (French 75-centimetre guns), and every now and then, above the tumult rose a dull boom as a huge howitzer shell burst in the vicinity of Ypres.

"On our right our infantry stormed the German trenches close to St. Julien, and in the effort gained the southern outskirts of the village. In the centre they captured trenches a little to the south of Bois des Cuisiniers, west of St. Julien, and still further west trenches were taken. This represented an advance of some 600 or 700 yards, but the gain in ground could not be maintained at all points.

"Opposite St. Julien we fell back from the village to a position just south of the place and in front of the Bois des Cuisiniers and on the left of the line a similar retirement took place.

"The enemy made extensive use of his gas cylinders and machine guns placed in farms and at other points of vantage. Nevertheless the situation at nightfall was more satisfactory than it had been. We were holding our own well along the line and had made some progress at points. On the right the enemy's attacks on the front of Gravenstafel Ridge all had been repulsed.

"In the meantime the French had achieved some success, having retaken Lizerne and also the trenches around Het Sas, captured some 250 prisoners, and made progress all along the west bank of the canal.

"Heavy as our losses were during the day, there is little doubt that the enemy suffered terribly. Both sides were attacking at different points. The fighting was conducted very largely in the open, and the close formation of the Germans on several occasions presented excellent targets to our artillery, which did not fail to seize its opportunities."

"There is no such thing as luck!" "There isn't, eh? Did you ever see anybody upset an inkstand when it was empty?"

FORCING THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL

The Sherbrooke, Que., correspondent of the Manitoba Free Press, reports the Hon. Mr. Doherty, Minister of Justice, as saying that "the government was preparing for an election. The persistent opposition of the Governor-General to sign the order for the dissolution of parliament while the country was at war was the greatest obstacle in the way of the government."

If this report is correct it confirms officially what has been generally believed. The Governor-General, fully appreciating the seriousness of the situation, quite naturally objects to a proceeding which would stain this country with infamy, degrade the flag bathed in the blood and tears of thousands and divide Canada into warring political camps while the issue in Europe trembles in the balance. No true friend of the empire would suggest such a thing; no genuinely loyal subject of the sovereign would try to force his representative in this country along the path lighted by the Hon. Robert Rogers.

There can be no question where the will of the people lies. If the Governor-General refuses to grant a dissolution he will be supported by the public from ocean to ocean, with the exception of a small element of abandoned political profligates, whose ideals would shame a Central American republic. If, however, he feels constitutionally bound to sign the obnoxious decree the electors may be depended upon to punish those who forced him to do so.

THE WAR'S COURSE.

Berlin is reported to be celebrating a great victory in the Carpathians. Flags and bunting are flying but at the time of this writing the public have received no details. All they know is that the warcrats have ordered them to celebrate, just as they are told no matter how it outrages the processes of reason, to hate England with precision and unanimity, to hand over their savings and to do many other things objectionable and unobjectionable. Vienna, however, has more details. It declares that the Russian line running north and south along the Donajec in Western Galicia from the Vistula to the mountains has been pierced and that the Austro-German army has captured eight thousand Slav prisoners.

Eight thousand, probably is the initial figure upon which a more imposing total will be established during the course of the day. It is considerable, but it hardly coincides with the Berlin announcement yesterday that only a few Russians escaped from the debacle. It was known, however, that for some time the Germans had been concentrating at Cracow for the purpose of attacking the Russian line along the Donajec. We assume that the Russians adopted strong measures to meet the onslaught, which was developed on the von Hindenburg model under the command of Mackensen. Petrograd does not report anything but fierce isolated contests in the neighborhood of Tarnow. It is not improbable that in one of these combats at least the Austro-Germans were successful, but whether it was of sufficient importance to threaten the whole line a few days will show. Were the Germans and Austrians to break through the Russian front in Western Galicia in force the Muscovites would have to withdraw from the Carpathians or they would be in grave danger. This would be a serious setback for our Eastern ally and undoubtedly would very materially prolong the war. Further news will be awaited with much anxiety in the allied countries.

It is possible, of course that the ruse of Berlin and Vienna announcements are over-drawn for the purpose of influencing wavering neutrals. Evidence in support of this view was furnished by Berlin a few days ago when it gravelly announced that the Turks had driven four British brigades into the sea and had cleared the Gallipoli peninsula of invaders. As a matter of fact the British and French now are in possession of the greater part of the peninsula and, if reports from Mitylene are correct, they have cornered the Turks along the littoral of the strait between Maldoz and Kalid Bahr, in other words, along the western side of the narrows, where the defenders are being shelled from the hills in the rear and by the warships, which seem to have no difficulty in entering the Dardanelles for a considerable distance. Once Kalid Bahr and Chanak, the forts which guard the narrows are silenced, the victory will have been won and the enemy must either surrender or be exterminated.

These forward operations by the allies at the Dardanelles are making certain neutral nations very restless. For generations Italy, Greece and Bulgaria cherished the expectation of some day annexing portions of the Ottoman empire, with which the history of their countries have been associated. With them it is now or never. A few weeks more may find Great Britain, France and Russia disposing of the Sick Man's appanage behind closed doors. Their assistance then will not be required. Thus we may expect that as soon as the "definite and decisive result," news of which the French Minister of Marine says he expects shortly, is reported from the Dardanelles, some of the neutrals will break their leashes or they will be torn with revolutions. In these circumstances we can understand why both Germany and Austria might be disposed to magnify every success into a "great victory." In many ways, therefore, the Dardanelles must be considered as the key to the situation in Europe. Turkey is the German flank, and in trying to smash it the allies are merely putting into practice a time-worn military formula.

FORCING AN ELECTION.

In an attempt to force the hand of the Prime Minister for a general election the Hon. Bob Rogers has delivered a speech in Montreal, a verbatim report of which was sent to every Conservative newspaper in the Dominion. The speech is characteristic of the man. It is a tirade of falsehood and venomous abuse from beginning to end. It imputes disloyalty to the Liberals, charges their chieftain with obstructing the war-policy of the government, attacks various public bodies and goes so far as to stigmatize a prominent divine of Manitoba as a "professional hypocrite" because he expressed disapproval of graft disclosed in connection with the purchase of war supplies. It is an utterance, in short, quite consistent with the character of the man whose inclusion in the cabinet four years ago caused the leading Conservative newspaper in the Dominion, the strongly Imperialistic Montreal Star, to regret that the Prime Minister had "made a false step by admitting a sinister influence to his councils."

Mr. Rogers wanted an election last fall. He pulled every string to bring it about. But an outcry arose from the country similar to that which has been occasioned by the present manipulations of Rogers and the element of practical politicians who support him. The Governor-General was known to be averse to granting a dissolution, for, imbued with the traditions of British statesmanship, fair play and decency, he could not be anything else. Rogers renewed his conspiracy early in the spring. He fears another session of parliament and the effect a continuation of graft disclosures might have upon an election next year. The inquiry into the parliament buildings contracts at Winnipeg, insisted upon by the Lieutenant-Governor of the province, is another development causing him considerable uneasiness.

Last fall Sir Robert Borden was urged to state publicly that there would be no election while the war was in progress provided the struggle did not outlast the life of the parliament. He refused to do so, while the campaign "literature" bureau of the party under the superintendence of Mr. Rogers was flooding the country with pamphlets attacking the loyalty of the leader of the opposition, a specimen of which was read in the House of Commons by Sir Wilfrid Laurier during the last session. This was a shameful attack upon a great statesman honored by three generations, who had given more than forty years of his life to the service of his country. It was particularly gross coming from the people who even then were engaged in the congenial occupation of destroying the British preference.

The Prime Minister is being flooded with protests against an election from all over Canada. Public bodies of various descriptions have adopted resolutions strongly condemning such an indecent proceeding. There is no issue on the subject of the war. Votes for military purposes have been passed by a unanimous parliament, but the opposition's course in attacking graft from which not only the people of Canada but our heroic soldiers themselves would suffer has been justified by Sir Robert Borden himself. Mr. Rogers regards this as unpatriotic. Decent people would call it the lowest patriotism. The opposition also opposed the nullification of the British preference, for the erection of a tariff obstacle in the way of British trade with Canada at this time does far more to diminish that trade than the German submarine blockade does. In view of the fact that Canada is borrowing every cent of her funds for the war from Great Britain, it is doubly improper for us to raise tariff restrictions against her trade.

The Liberals do not fear an election, but they do not want one. They prefer the course of the Liberal administration in Great Britain, which opened its council chamber to Mr. Balfour, Bonar Law and Austin Chamberlain. They believe that if Sir Edward Carson and John Redmond can bury the hatchet in the face of a grave crisis it can be done in this country. All that the Prime Minister needs to do is to announce definitely that there will be no election this year and the political turmoil and agitation will die down.

The Hamilton Spectator, one of the most influential Conservative newspapers in Ontario, is strongly opposed to an election on two vitally important grounds. The first is that a six weeks' election campaign, in which every minister would be stumping the country and all the government services would be upset, would interfere seriously with our war activities. Especial force is lent to this argument by the results of the battle of Ypres, where our casualties reached the staggering total of six thousand. The Spectator also pointed out what subsequently was emphasized by the Montreal Board of Trade, that a general election would cause a serious setback to business just when it was beginning to recover from the depression. If Sir Robert Borden is big enough for his position these considerations will weigh with him. If he is a weakling and unfit to be the head of the Canadian government he will surrender to the disreputable elements which are trying to force his hand. A day or so will determine the question.

Hon. "Bob" Rogers wants an election for reasons which are obvious. The Duke of Connaught, our Governor-General, is opposed to an election for other and more patriotic reasons and out of deference to Canadians whose houses are in mourning. We did at one time think that perhaps Sir Robert Borden was the factor in the situation and that it was the Premier who was opposing the "practical policies" of the "Minister of Elections." That, it appears, was a mistake. Sir Robert has no opinions on the subject that are worthy of consideration. He still is "Robert the Unready." Rogers the Unspeakeable is master of the administration, and he is in conflict with the Governor-General. Which will win is a matter to be determined. Of one thing there is no doubt: All the better elements in Canada, in public life and out of it, are strongly opposed to an election at this time, the most solemn period in the history of the British Empire.

The official report from the Dardanelles to-day is very gratifying, especially as the news from the other fronts is somewhat unfavorable. Not only have violent attacks of the Turks been repulsed by the allies but the latter are advancing into the interior of Gallipoli peninsula. It is noteworthy that the official bulletin speaks of the Turks attacking in "mass formation." This is the costly style the German organizers have forced upon the Turkish army, a method which for temperamental reasons might be all right for Germans but all wrong for Turks. Uncle von der Goltz and General Liman von Sanders will be well advised if they clear out while the clearing is good. When the allies force the Dardanelles there will be an outcrop of assassinations at headquarters. There were a score or more after the Balkan war.

What a pity it is that the men who are trying to force a snap appeal at this time cannot be forced into the firing line in Flanders! They then would realize the frightful evil of a general election that would tie up the public and private services of this country at a time when the call from the trenches is for more men and more supplies without delay. Evidently Mr. Rogers wants to extend his damnable propaganda even to the battlefield, concentration depots and hospitals.

The situation in the Far East has become very tense. Japan has decided to send an ultimatum to Peking which, if rejected, certainly will be followed by war. China cannot hope to prevail against Japan. Bankrupt financially and in a military sense she could not offer even serious resistance.

A few days ago the Colonist published an editorial article appealing for higher ideals in politics. This morning it reiterates the vile calumnies of "Bob" Rogers. Our contemporary has no ideals, and never had any. If it had it longed it would be his duty to consider what other form the general community could provide funds to enable the country to carry on the war.

As a result of the year's operations, the chancellor said, the national debt was now £1,165,857,000. Mr. Lloyd George did not consider that the time had arrived to frame the final policy for the whole year, as the character of the budget must depend upon the view of the government whether the war would last six months or throughout the fiscal year. Dealing with the revenue for the coming year, the chancellor estimated that the total from all sources would reach £270,332,000. He said that the fixed death charge for the year would be something like £50,000,000, the expenditure for the army would be £400,000,000 or £600,000,000, according to whether the war lasted six months or a year. On this same basis the expenditure for the navy would be £100,000,000 or £140,000,000. He placed loans to Great Britain's allies at £290,000,000.

FIX TWO MARKET DAYS EACH WEEK

Change Will Come Into Effect on May 12; Wednesdays and Saturdays

The civic market committee last evening suggested an amendment of the market by-law to enable the market days to be held next week, and thereafter on Tuesdays and Saturdays, except on days when a public holiday occurs, when other arrangements could be made by the committee.

Aldermen McCandless and McNeill supported Wednesday and Saturday, most of the aldermen agreeing with them. Alderman Sargent, chairman of the committee, declared that the committee had an open mind on the matter.

The motion to make it Wednesday and Saturday, commencing May 12, was then adopted, and the by-law is so amended.

A petition has been lodged against the local improvement proposed on McClure street, by Thornton Fell, K. C., on behalf of Mrs. MacGregor, who, however, indicated that it certain conditions are complied with the objection will be withdrawn.

The officials will give attention to the formal protest.

The city engineer will make a report on a protest of owners against a boulevard projected on Vancouver street, to the next streets committee meeting.

Alderman McNeill drew the attention of the council to the necessity of providing additional streets for the paving work, mentioning Richmond road particularly, and the subject will come up in streets committee on Friday afternoon.

An application having been received from the proprietors of the Quality Hat Store for an iron awning to be erected on the northwest corner of Fort and Broad streets it was opposed on principle by the fire chief and building inspector. If the council granted the permit, then the officials recommended certain conditions should be met. A copy of the letter containing the officials' suggestions will be forwarded to the owners, and a plan will be called for from the owners.

E. H. Seammell, secretary, wrote with regard to the excursion of members of the Canadian Peace Centenary association to the Panama-Pacific exposition, and suggesting a public reception in Victoria about the latter part of July.

Alderman McNeill said a special committee, in co-operation with the Development association, should be appointed to act.

The special committee will be composed of the mayor, Aldermen McNeill and Todd.

ADOPT PRINCIPLE OF BUREAU CONTROL

Aldermen Leave Over Details of Management to Future Meetings

"I should like to see the committee composed of three council members and three co-opted members, the council to remain in control as the largest customer of labor from the bureau, and charged with the responsibility of paying the expenditure," said Alderman McNeill last evening in speaking to a motion in city council proposing to take over the Central Employment Bureau.

After considerable discussion the council decided to adopt the principle of taking over the bureau and to leave the subject of management to a future meeting. The committee also recommended that the sum of $1,600 should be provided for the maintenance of the bureau this year, and its debts paid. This part of the report was laid over. Mr. Winkel meanwhile to remain in charge as acting superintendent.

Aldermen Bell and Fullerton urged a co-opted committee, including representatives of non-council bodies. Alderman Fullerton observed:

"From the first the late committee was too large for success in work of this description. A smaller number will work with unanimity, and will get the best good out of the proposal. It has done good in the past, and I believe it can do better."

Alderman Bell favored the nomination of men not responsible to any organization, because in his opinion the trouble had come from "men elected to serve a certain organization, and a certain clique."

The chairman (Alderman Porter): Quite right.

Alderman Bell: The men should be selected for their fairness, their intelligence and their interest in the work. This question is not a purely municipal one.

Alderman Dilworth favored representation of the ladies.

Alderman McCandless desired to see the council in complete control by retaining a majority of the personnel of the committee composed of council members.

Aldermen Okell and Sargent were against any immediate decision, beyond taking over the control of the bureau. Alderman Porter: It was the most unpleasant task I have tackled (when sitting on the late committee with the mayor and Alderman Dilworth), to be opposed by the men we were hoping to aid.

A letter from the Affiliated Friendly Society's association, asking the council to take over the Central Labor Bureau and appoint a small board of managers, was received and tabled.

The council passed a resolution thanking Dr. John J. Millar, late superintendent of the bureau, for gratuitous service in establishing the institution.

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAMME.

Proceeds of Friday's Concert to Go to St. Paul's Royal Naval and Garrison Church.

A most attractive programme has been arranged for a concert to be held in the assembly room of Lamson street school on Friday evening, May 7, in aid of St. Paul's Royal Naval and Garrison church, Esquimalt. The proceedings, which are to commence at 8 o'clock, will include vocal solos by Mrs. Joseph Hinton, Mrs. Moore playing the violin obligato to her selection; Mrs. R. H. Pooley and Mrs. Robert Baird, mezzo soprano and contralto respectively; Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green, violinist; Miss Theresa Mesher, who will give an "Egyptian Slave Dance"; Robert MacKenzie, tenor; Mr. Hinton, piano solo; Rev. W. Baugh Allen, organ solo; and men from H. M. C. S. Rainbow, who will give musical items.

L. D. McLean, skilled in the art of legerdemain and sleight-of-hand, will give a display of his craft. This will be quite a novel feature of the evening's entertainment, as Mr. McLean made quite a sensation with his exhibition at the recent Rotary minstrel show given here.

IS BACK FROM FIRE INSURANCE MEETINGS

J. L. Noble Attends Gatherings in San Francisco; World's Congress

Returning on Saturday from a visit to San Francisco, J. L. Noble, secretary of the Vancouver Island Fire Underwriters' association, has some interesting impressions with regard to the exposition and the insurance gatherings which he attended.

The primary object of his visit was to attend the "Nine Years' After" celebration, which commemorated the ninth anniversary of the earthquake and fire.

"There was a fine parade," he said, "of the various public bodies, military, naval and other authorities, and demonstrations of mine rescue work and fire department exercises for the visitors attending. Addresses were given by the governor, Mayor Rolph and Major-General Arthur Griffiths. One of the finest features was a demonstration by the United States life-saving branch stationed at the Ocean beach. A vessel was set on fire off the exposition grounds, and extinguished by the fire boat of the department.

"On Sunday following reference was made in the churches to the results which San Francisco had to show from the value of insurance, in its quick recovery from the effects of the disastrous fire in April, 1906. On Sunday afternoon there were exercises in the court of the universe at the exposition grounds, at which the speakers included Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, and Dr. David Starr Jordan, of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university.

"On April 20 and 21 the convention of the Fire Underwriters' association, of the Pacific coast, of which I am an honorary member, was held, at which 1,000 fire insurance men attended, about 200 of them sitting down at a banquet at the St. Francis hotel during the convention. The World's international congress will be held October 4 to 16, and R. W. Douglas, of this city, is a member of the council. This congress is organized by W. L. Hathaway, the commissioner, who is well known in Victoria for his association with the Flying Legion. Five thousand insurance men will attend the gathering.

Mr. Noble comes back with an enthusiastic account of the exposition, being particularly impressed with the Tower of Jewels and the lighting effects. The Canadian building also calls forth his admiration. The exhibits from Italy, France and Great Britain were arriving when he left, and will be shortly in position.

He has done some missionary work for the attractions of Vancouver Island and among his insurance friends in San Francisco, and several of them have promised to visit Victoria when the holiday season comes round. Some will bring their cars for touring the island.

HEAVY FINE IMPOSED

Manager of Bellevue Hotel is Punished for Keeping Disorderly House.

What promised to develop into a startling feature of the Bellevue case was sprung by J. A. Aikman, counsel for the accused keeper of the hotel, Mrs. Lottie B. Robertson, in police court this morning, just as Magistrate Jay was about to deliver judgment.

Mr. Aikman alleged that one of the police witnesses in the case, a young married woman who had been rooming in the hotel some time ago, had told a waitress in a city cafe that she was to get a good bit of money if Mrs. Robertson was convicted.

The waitress appeared to be loath to come to court to swear to this, however, and a bench warrant was about to be sent out for her arrest when she came in. Her examination and that of the other girl did not bring out anything sensational. It appeared that the latter had been talking to a couple of soldiers in the restaurant a few days ago, and to the waitress yesterday about the case and the payment of witnesses, but there was no talk of any other payment for having testified in the case. The waitress stated that she had been seven months in the hotel last year, and saw nothing improper going on.

Magistrate Jay dismissed this feature with a word or two. On the main aspect of the case he said that for a considerable time the accused had carried on a legitimate business as a hotel and rooming-house, as the register showed, but within the past couple of months the character of the house had changed.

The court was satisfied that the accused was guilty and she would be fined $200. If there was any repetition of the offence she would go to jail. Fred Robertson, husband of the woman, was fined $15 for having used obscene and abusive language to the police officers who made the arrests.

Eather McKay and Anita Doyle, the girls who had made admissions in the case, were each fined $25 and the other three—Buddy McKay, Madge Kelton and Gerrie Barnes—had the charges against them withdrawn, and got their bail money back.

Body Not Yet Found.—There has been no trace yet found of the body of the second fisherman who was drowned in Sooke Harbor on Sunday morning. An inquest on the other man will be held this afternoon.

Pyramus and Thisby.—On Wednesday evening, May 12, 1915, at 8 o'clock, the "Lamentable Comedy of Pyramus and Thisby" (from Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream) will be produced for the second time at the lecture hall of the Congregational church, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

ABOUT FLOUR

Have you heard of our Merchandising Campaign for Royal Standard Flour? How we are having our special representative call on every householder in this Province of British Columbia to ascertain just why some of you are using other flours—flours which are not made in British Columbia. And we find—in some cases that the flour you have been accustomed to using is, as the outcome of your own experience—a good flour—and you have been using it for many years, but—30 years ago you used gas or coal oil to light your house—and it was a good light—much better than candles but not as good as electricity which most of us use nowadays—if we can get it. So we ask you to try Royal Standard Flour—because it is just a little bit better than any other good flour. The Grocer—who is not prejudiced—will supply you—if you ask him.

Panama-Pacific exposition, returned yesterday on the S. S. "Governor."

The Misses Fraser, "Carrisbrooke," will not receive to-morrow, nor again during the summer months.

Mrs. Walter C. Hembroff, 2915 Prior street, will be at home to-morrow afternoon and not again this season.

James Adams is back in the city after a short stay in San Francisco, where he visited the Panama-Pacific exposition.

A very pretty May-day wedding took place on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 972 Walker street, when Jean Anderson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson Gibson, was joined in marriage to Sergeant-Major Percy Harold Leicester, of the 48th battalion; C. E. F., son of the late Joseph and Mrs. Leicester, Perthshire, Scotland. The bride wore a very becoming soft crepe de mignon gown with trimmings of shadow lace, her bridal veil being fastened in place with orange blossoms, and her sheer bouquet being of white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley. She was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Annie Gibson, her sister, who was attired in soft cream crepe. The best man was Company-Sergeant-Major Anderson, also of the 48th battalion, and Bn. Quarter-master-Sergeant Whitehead, assisted at the ceremony, the rite being performed by Rev. Dr. Maclean, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West. After the wedding about twenty-five of the immediate relatives of the principals who had witnessed the ceremony sat down to a delicious repast, during which toasts to both the bride and bridegroom were proposed. Mr. and Mrs. Leicester will make their home in Victoria until the departure of the 48th battalion.

ROLE OF AGED MAN

As Sir Jasper Thorndyke He Holds the Stage Alone Through Last Act

It was a new John Drew who took the final curtain calls at the Royal Victoria theatre last night; John Drew in the part of an old, old man. It seemed impossible for the moment, remembering the stage gallant of former years who had trod the boards with a firm step and a charming smile, who won the hearts of women in the plays he played, and who, with his perfect appearance, grace of manner and ready wit, went through the years always the same young John Drew.

Last night as Sir Jasper Thorndyke, there was in the first three acts of that delightful comedy, "Rosemary," here and there a picture of the John Drew of old, but in the clothes of the early Victorian era the modern society man was hidden. It was a new John Drew, but none the less a welcome one, for "Rosemary" is the kind of comedy that is fitted for the steady movement and deliberate speech of the Drew school.

Between acts three and four of "Rosemary" there are 50 years of time, and as Sir Jasper Thorndyke was a middle aged man in the first three acts, it seemed improbable that he would be seen in the last act. He, however, is the sole survivor of the gentle love story that began fifty years previously, and as the incidents of what to him then was a tragedy are brought back, tragedy now is but bare remembrance, and time the healer has removed the sting.

"Rosemary" is a very pretty little comedy, graceful, extremely delicate, and exquisitely rendered by Mr. Drew's company. Alexandra Carlisle, new to Victoria, was a captivating and charming Dorothy. Her stage mother, Mrs. Whitford, is 70 years of age in life, and presented the part naturally. A pair of odd characters who gave the play much of the light comedy it contained, are Hubert Druce as Professor Jogram, and Harry Harwood as Capt. Crutch-shanks, R. N. They represented respectively an old sea dog, and a land lubber.

"Rosemary" tells the story of an elopement by a youth and maid who under stress of an accident are compelled to take shelter offered by Sir Jasper Thorndyke. Sir Jasper's charm, in which is the real John Drew acting, has its effect on Dorothy, and with the possibility of winning her from her young lover always in sight, he leads their lovers' quarrels and sees them wed, the while struggling with his own heart ache. Then, when he reaches 50, it is all just as Dorothy had so sweetly said 50 years before, "Rosemary, that's for remembrance."

"Rosemary" is indeed a pretty stage production. It is winning and sweet. It is so simple, pure, clean and delicate, and it tells such a story of peace

Wounded.ALDERMEN VISIT
Sooke Lake To-dayAre on Inspection Trip of Watershed; Conditions
Round Lake

In visiting Sooke Lake to-day the aldermen are making a trip which is in the nature of a search for information. It will be of the greatest value in determining the price which is to be paid for the watershed, or rather in forming judgment of the value set by the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway in the original negotiations on the lands proposed to be acquired. This was figured out at $20.40 per acre, the estimated extent of the watershed being 14,500 acres. This sum was provided in the supplementary by-law passed by the electors in September, 1913, but the financial provision for it has never been completed. The council could have sold the whole of the supplementary loan a few months later, but never anticipating a great international calamity which would dry up the channels of financial wealth, preferred not to accept the price for the debentures offered.

The dam at the lake at present is a modest affair, but provision has been made for greatly supplementing the estimated capacity of the lake by adding a dam with a 45-foot raise. The present dam is 12 feet high. Mr. Meredith, in his report which was approved by council November 16, 1911, strongly supported the small dam, as sufficient for 16,000,000 gallons daily, for which he undertook delivery. The decision to use a 42-inch internal diameter concrete pipe for the 3 1/2 miles of flow line to Humpback reservoir enables an estimated capacity of the conduit of 17,000,000 gallons per diem flow.

From time to time the water commissioner has reported upon the logs which were left in the lake when the Westholme Lumber company cleared the land around the lake, the expectation being at that time that the Canadian Northern railway would have been operating long since, and would have removed them to the mills in the same way as the logs are brought down to lumber mills from Cowichan lake. But as no railway has been available no definite course has been adopted.

The city maintains a caretaker at the lake, who is in a position to keep an eye upon the conditions prevailing there, and also the flow line at the intake pipe which connects with the pipe line following the line of Sooke river for some miles. On the site where the summer homes of the Victoria huntersmen formerly existed, flow now the placid waters of the lake, the small increase in the depth of the lake having flooded the lower road. The government road runs at a higher level now.

The watershed itself, which has always been noted for its game, extends over about 23 square miles, and adjoins the Leech river watershed on the west, while the eastern boundary marches for some distance with the Goldstream watershed, now in private hands. The Leech river watershed, a district of canyons and wooded heights, which is still wilder than the Sooke one, was offered to the city on an option some 18 months ago, but was declined. Only a few days ago, responding to a request of the city officials, the government placed a reserve on Leech river.

Necessarily the surveys of the watersheds would require a considerable time, and the acquisition of at least the Sooke basin is desired to protect the timber which is a great assistance to precipitation. It is for this reason that the visit is being made prior to the conference to be held on Friday with Mr. Solly, land agent of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway.

While this is not, perhaps, a proper occasion in which to go into the whole question of Sooke waterworks, which will soon be ready for their formal opening, a function which give an opportunity for people to see where the $3,000,000 invested by Victoria has gone in the past four years, it should be explained that only a small portion of the flow line has to be completed, and this will, probably be done this next week. The Pacific Lock Joint company, which has the contract for the work, is also, giving attention to joints in the school house cut at Goldstream, where some difficulties occurred last winter. In case of any interruptions to the conduit, the storage capacity at Humpback reservoir will be sufficient to take care of any demands which the city may make upon it till such interruption is corrected.

Yesterday afternoon 2,000 trout fry, presented by the Dominion government, were added to Humpback reservoir, as a protective measure. Capt. F. H. Cunningham, chief inspector of fisheries, is responsible for the gift.

AT THE THEATRES

COLUMBIA THEATRE.

Mr. Chas. Chaplin, the world's greatest comedian, is appearing in "His New Job," at the Columbia this week. This picture is a perfect scream from start to finish. In addition there are the usual vaudeville acts. The headliner is "Wardens Birds," an act that is very clever and interesting. Homer Dickinson, late leading man with the Candy Shop Co., is proving a big hit. Kay and Howard open the show with a good musical act.

VARIETY THEATRE.

"Buckshot John," featuring Hobart Bosworth in the title role, is adapted from Charles E. Van Loan's famous story of a convict's redemption. It is a gripping tale full of exciting scenes of western life. The principal roles are well acted, and the photoplay is up to the standard of the Bosworth productions. The three comedies, "Kidnapping the Kid," "Two Bold Bad Men" and "For the Honor of the Force," complete the bill.

CRYSTAL THEATRE.

Since the reduction of the price of admission in this popular playhouse to five cents, crowded houses have been the rule. The management have decided to make of the Crystal a high-class family theatre, and to that end are presenting an exceptionally high grade of photoplays. The feature is presented at each change of bill, the present one being "The Brute," the famous drama of a strong man's triumph over a woman's pride, with Malcolm Williams in the leading role. A good comedy is also presented with each change.

ROMANO THEATRE.

Charlie Chaplin, the great English comedian, is appearing at the Romano to-night in one of the comedies that made him famous. It is entitled "Gentlemen of Nerve," and is drawing capacity houses to the popular picture theatre. Six other reels of feature photoplays are also shown including "The Trapdoor," an episode in the Girl Detective series. "The Outlaw's Bride," a western drama, and "Socially Ambitious," a Lubin feature. "A Horse of Another Color," an Essanay comedy, is a laugh-producer from start to finish, concluding an all-star programme of special merit.

DOMINION THEATRE.

Annette Kellerman, she with the form so admired, is to be seen to-day at the Dominion theatre, and the event is one that is sure to tax the seating capacity of the house. The vehicle in which Miss Kellerman appears is a Universal Film production, "Neptune's Daughter," and in the role of the water queen this famous swimmer, diver and stage beauty is given ample scope for the disclosure of her wonderful charm as an exponent of modern Venus. Miss Kellerman's ability as an actress has been a delightful surprise to those who have only seen her heretofore in her elaborately staged tank diving act, and she certainly does display talent as one to the manner born.

"Neptune's Daughter" has had record runs in all the large cities of the east, two examples being its run at four months in one theatre in New York and a run of three months in Detroit, Michigan. This deservedly famous film is being shown here at the usual prices and no one should miss the opportunity of seeing it. The photo-film is 7,000 feet long, there are 500 scenes and 1,600 performers take part. Manager Robertson has also promised a run of the ever-popular Pathe British War News as an added attraction.

Red Cross Work.—Ross Sutherland, president of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross society, has been asked by Rev. Dr. Maclean to speak at a meeting to be held to-morrow night in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West, commencing at 8 o'clock.

HAS BEEN FIFTY YEARS ON THE STAGE

Mrs. Whiffen, Who Travels With John Drew, Has Had Interesting Career

Fifty years an actress! This is the remarkable record of Mrs. Whiffen, who is touring with John Drew in his most famous success, "Rosemary."

Yesterday afternoon at the Empress hotel Mrs. Whiffen consented to see a Times reporter, when she imparted the interesting fact that next September she hoped to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of her first stage appearance. That interesting event took place in London, when, as Blanche Galton (her maiden name) she made her first appearance in burlesque.

"My aunt, Louisa Pyne," said Mrs. Whiffen, "was at one time quite a well known singer both in England and on this continent. Through her I met many of the great artists of the time: Thoreson, Tittens, Pauline Lucca, Garcia, and others."

A second more surprising statement than the first came a few moments later when Mrs. Whiffen quite naturally announced that about a fortnight ago she celebrated her seventieth birthday! Quite unaffectedly she accepts the passing years without any attempt in dress or perquisites to conceal the fact. And one feels when talking to the slim little lady with the sweet English voice, the attentive and sympathetic eyes, and the slight expressive hands, that it is some old-world, quiet garden rather than the stage that would form her proper setting.

And when she speaks of knitting the picture thrusts itself more persistently before one. Since the war began she has carried her knitting with her everywhere, doing cholera-bells and scarves for the soldiers. Socks present a more difficult problem, and she is still struggling with her first pair. Unlike the simpler things which she first undertook, and which could be knitted in the train or anywhere, she sometimes (particularly when she comes to a heel) has to go and shut herself in her room for a couple of hours and work out the problem in undisturbed solitude. Splendid energy and vigorous mentality are so strongly in evidence that it is difficult to accept the fact of the passing of three-score-years-and-ten!

"In 1865 I went on the stage," she repeated. "In 1861 I came to America, still in burlesque and musical comedy. It was not until 1872 that I made my first appearance in drama, but I did not stay steadily in that, as in 1874 (or 'seventy-five, I really forget which year it was!) I was in Victoria with my husband."

"We stayed at the Driford hotel," she continued reminiscently. "Both of us thought the city such a delightful place. And then we went out to some park and picked wild roses and other flowers. We were travelling with Frank Gillett and his concert company, and, as far as I can recall, did one of Offenbach's operettas. But I have always remembered that visit and had the pleasantest memories of Victoria."

"O dear me, yes!" in reply to a brief query as to whether she noticed the changes. "But we loved it even then." Mrs. Whiffen and her husband appeared as "Little Buttercup" and "Sir Joseph Porter" respectively in the first New York production of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore." That was produced in 1879 by Mr. Duff. It was just shortly afterwards that they gave up the musical business, and since then she has been with many companies on the road, in New York, and elsewhere. For no less than fourteen years she was with Dan Frohman at the Lyceum theatre, New York. Afterwards she was in "st-ck" with Charles Frohman.

"I have supported many stars: Margaret Anglin, Henry Miller, Miss Mary Munster, and others," she added, concluding by saying that this was the first time she had played with Mr. Drew. Her great admiration for the actor is quite evident, and she recalled having seen him in "Rosemary" when he first appeared in this play about fifteen years ago.

There was a little despairing look when the reporter asked her how many parts she had played during her life. "Once I started to count," she said, "but when I reached three hundred I thought it was time to stop!" And still she is undaunted. "I shall only stop when I find my memory going back on me," she said, "and I haven't noticed that yet!"

Reckless Orderlies are a safe laxative even for the most delicate woman or child. Sold only by D. E. Campbell, The Rexall Store, 10c, 25c, and 50c boxes.

WANT OF CONFIDENCE IN KAMLOOPS MEMBER

Conservative Meeting Declares That It Trusts Neither Cabinet Nor Him

J. P. Shaw, member of the legislature for Kamloops and one of the members of the joint Indian commission as well, with a special act of parliament to enable him to draw remuneration which the independence of Parliament Act would have precluded him from doing, had the unique experience of having a vote of want of confidence in himself passed by a meeting of his electors at Heffley Creek last week.

The meeting was one called by his own party in connection with his campaign for re-election. W. H. Johnston was in the chair, and the member was the principal speaker, taking the platform after Mayor J. T. Robinson, of Kamloops, had spoken. There were a number of ladies present, and many of the audience were interested in the suffrage and local option movements.

Mr. Shaw maintained that though the Liberal platform planks were excellent, the Conservative party had placed many of them on the statute book. He insisted, for one thing, that the Conservative party had always and still favored a non-partisan civil service.

This statement aroused caustic criticism, and many pertinent questions were asked, to which no satisfactory replies were even attempted. His remarks upon the policy of prohibition met with scant favor from the strong temperance party present.

W. R. Austin, at the close of the address, made some pungent comments upon the Conservative record and proposed a vote of "no confidence in the government or the member for this riding, all of whom should retire from the political arena."

This was carried by a very large majority, taken on a standing vote, and the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem. Hearty cheers were called for and given for the Liberal candidate, P. A. Anderson, and consoling cheers for Mr. Shaw, who seemed to take the opposition in good part, and admitted that the criticisms made had been offered in a perfectly fair manner.

"THE BLINDNESS OF VIRTUE."

To the Editor:—So many pathetic cases of misfortune among our girls—arising principally through ignorance—have come to my knowledge that I consider it high time that some measures should be taken to give more adequate instruction and thus guard against the results that are far too frequent.

I have seen the play "The Blindness of Virtue," and would advise mothers to take their daughters for instruction and enlightenment upon the facts of life. Virtue is an angel, but she is a blind one, and must ask of knowledge to show her the pathway that leads to her goal.

A MOTHER.

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

To the Editor:—It has perhaps come to your notice that there will be held in Montreal, in July next, a Canadian eucharistic congress.

I have the honor of being the president of the convention and have reason to assume that the event will be an important one and calculated to arouse much interest among our people.

A letter has been received from His Holiness Pope Benedict XV. commending the congress, and the archbishops and bishops of Canada have given the proposed celebration their warmest approval and signified their intention of being present. The clergy also and laity from all over Canada will attend in large numbers.

As it is probably customary with you to take notice of public religious demonstrations, I would indeed feel deeply grateful if you would, in proper season, give to this event the recognition it may deserve in the columns of your valued publication.

I have appointed Rev. M. P. Reid, Congress hall, 278 Dorchester street W., the secretary of the publicity committee of the English-speaking section, and he will be in a position to furnish you at any time with all the information available.

With anticipated thanks for any courtesy you may extend, I am, very faithfully yours,
PAUL,
Archbishop of Montreal.

DESTITUTION AMONGST ITALIANS

To the Editor:—I wish to draw your kind attention to the state of my countrymen, the Italians, in Victoria. A little time ago a letter was published for me which helped one or two, but the need now is very great.

There are in Victoria about 150 Italian men out of work. Of that number from 60 to 70 are in great want and have not enough to eat. When Dr. Millar was here he gave us some assistance, but since he left they starve.

They need very little to support them and work together to help one another, but they have nothing and now they have no work. They have not money to go away and they have no money to live when they stay, and most of them have no English to make known their wants.

If the labor bureau would give work to one-third, about 50 men, of those in great need so that each could work two weeks out of every six weeks, they would help one another and get enough to eat. They have worked hard in the country.

I do what I can for my countrymen, but I too, am poor and cannot do much, and many of them are very hungry.

They have no consul or representative of their country here to speak for them. I appeal to the city council and to the government to see that these people get a small measure of assistance to give them work that they may support their women and children and be useful members of the community.

Green, who was recalled after her masterly performance on the violin of the Svendsen "Romance;" H. Davis, with "Mother Mine;" H. C. Hughes, who sang "Alisa Mine;" H. Kent, in "The Trumpeter;" and R. Macaulay, who sang a popular air, "The Fifth Regiment" band also contributed several splendid numbers, including the overture to "Tancréd."

MR. DENT'S VISIT

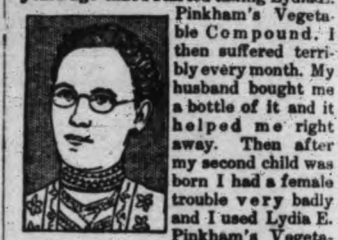

Will Be Guest of Canadian Club at Luncheon to Be Held To-morrow.

At the Canadian Club luncheon in Vancouver yesterday, at which J. M. Dent, head of the London publishing firm of J. M. Dent & Sons, was the guest of honor, Mr. Dent claimed that with all its frivolities Britain was the only nation that stood for freedom, and after saying that in his recent travels through the United States he had received many expressions of sympathy with the Allies' cause, he asked how long the Monroe doctrine would stand without the British navy.

Mr. Dent will be the guest of the Canadian club at the luncheon to be held at the Empress hotel to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, when he will speak on the effect of the war on literature.

MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

BASEBALL CLUB WILL CATER TO LADIES

ABERDEEN TEAM TO BE STRENGTHENED

Wednesday and Friday Games Will Be Free to Fair Sex Next Week; Tacoma Holds League Leadership

"We will have two ladies' days next week, on Wednesday and Friday, while I will also try to arrange with the management of the Seattle club, to have the ladies admitted to the grandstand for twenty-five cents on the other days of the week." This was the statement handed out to the Times this morning by President Joshua Kinsman, of the Victoria Baseball club, Mr. Kinsman is a firm believer in ladies day, and says that when the fanatics turn out to view the game, the sterner sex will attend in greater numbers than ever. The local manager recently put through a league motion to admit all men in uniform for twenty-five cents, so it will be seen that he is doing all in his power to encourage baseball in the capital.

Victoria slipped back a few points yesterday when the Tigers slipped one over on them, but the Laruping Leafs can be depended upon to win quite a few games at Tacoma this week. Spokane went into third place by their victory over Vancouver, while Seattle crept up a little by trimming the badly-handled Aberdeen club. The race, so far, has been a very pretty one, with the first an even chance for the leadership before the month is out.

Pug Bennett's Aberdeen squad do not seem to be able to crack the ball like the other clubs. Manager Bennett in a Tacoma interview asked the scribes to wait before passing judgment on his team.

"My club will strike their stride pretty soon," Bennett is quoted as saying, "and when they do they will go to the top with a rush." Third base is a weak spot with the Black Cats, while their outfield is none too strong. A shakeup in due time, unless they start winning this week.

Smiling Billy Donovan is giving the New York fans a rare treat by piloting his Yankees to the top of the heap in the Ben Johnson circuit. The Gothamites are tickled with Wild Bill and his club, some already calling the strengthened Yanks to cop the flag. Donovan has a first-class pitching staff and the deals he made last winter have bolstered up his infield. A first division berth will satisfy the former Tiger star, but a pennant will assure him a berth for life with the New York club.

Bob Williams, the local dopest, claims that Victoria, with an experienced left-hander, will win handily in the Northwestern league. Williams claims that the locals' hitting, fielding and base running, is superior to any club in the circuit. An experienced southpaw will round out the team.

FORMER PRESIDENT SAYS LOCAL OUTFIELD IS GREATEST EVER

T. P. McConnell thinks that the present Victoria outfield, Tobin, Shaw and Kaylor, is the greatest that was ever gathered together in the Northwestern league.

The former Victoria president says that Victoria will win a lot of games simply because of the defensive work of this trio, while their hitting will certainly enable them to hold their jobs in this league. McConnell thinks Tobin the most finished outer gardener that ever worked on this circuit, while he considers Ted Kaylor a real star. Hunky Shaw, because of his wonderful fielding and pegging, completes a real all-star combination.

T. P. is also enthusiastic over the work of Howard House, figuring that House's twirling on Thursday was one of the finest pieces of slab work ever shown here. He thinks that with a reliable southpaw, Victoria has a baseball club capable of going through to a Northwestern league pennant.

Bert Hughes, the Vancouver featherweight, is out with a challenge to Len Holliday and Al Davies. He stated last night that if Davies refuses to appear in Nanaimo he will substitute if the Nanaimo promoters will accept the offer. Hughes wants a crack at Davies and says he is ready at any time to meet the Capital City boxer.

POOR START COST LEAFS THE GAME

Kaufman Renews Old Jinx on Victoria Club; Otto Nye Played Short

Poxy old Dick Kaufman still has a grudge against the Victoria ball club. Two years ago this ancient hurler was cut loose by the locals, and ever since then he has taken a keen delight in slipping the hooks into the Leafs.

Yesterday, in the first combat of the year against Victoria, Kaufman hung up a 5 to 2 win, his team amassing a total of nine hits off Howard House, who essayed the heavy lifting for the Leafs.

Russ Hall had been saving Kaufman for a slam at the Islanders, and he needed it, for the Leafs were at all times dangerous. The Tigers bunched their hits on House, with the result that they handed Kaufman enough runs in the first inning to win. The Leafs played splendid ball in the field, but Kaufman had them hitting long flies to the outfielders. The line drives, that played havoc with the Spokane club, were missing.

Victoria scored a run in the first on Otto Nye's double and Shaw's triple. In the ninth the locals again looked like starting something, Kelly scoring on a double and McGee's single. On other occasions they had chances, but Kaufman kept the bingles scattered. Extra base hits helped Tacoma, the Tigers getting to House for a couple of doubles and a single before the Detroit youth was fairly warmed up. House twirled a nice article of ball, but his team mates refused to pummel Kaufman with the vigor needed to win.

Willis Butler's absence from short was noticed, though young Nye pegged nicely in the field. Butler is the league's leading hitter right now, and he might have started a rally had he been in the game. The Leafs will work Barham, Hanson and McKenry in a row against the Tigers and Manager Nye expects to cop four out of the seven.

Seattle, May 4.—Joe Lutz, the new pitcher secured by Seattle from the St. Louis Nationals, made his debut yesterday and pitched Seattle to victory, the locals winning from Aberdeen, 3-1. Lutz' pitching was the feature of the game.

There is a movement on foot over in England to have the famous Derby transferred from the Epsom course, where it has been decided since its establishment back in 1780, to Newmarket this year. The course at Epsom Downs has always been considered unsatisfactory from the strict standpoint of racing, for the greatest classic of the British turf, but the social features of that meeting gave the Derby such prestige that the shortcomings of the course have always been overlooked. Now, however, with the social features of the Epsom races removed by order of the Jockey Club, the last objection to the transfer of the Derby to Newmarket seems to have been removed, unless one is moved by a desire to maintain the traditional features of the famous course. The Newmarket course is regarded as a splendid one for crack performers, and many of the owners whose thoroughbreds are eligible for the classic have expressed themselves as in favor of the transfer.

HOME PLAYERS NEED OF LOCALS

VICTORIA DEFENCE LOOKS STRONG

Coach Bob Springer Says Victoria Has Fine Chance to Win P. C. A. L. A. Honors This Year

A couple of real, live home players are in demand by the Victoria Lacrosse club, and Coach Springer thinks that if he can add one or two speedy players to his attack, that he will have a lacrosse aggregation that can walk off with the P. C. A. L. A. championship. The local twelve will practice again tonight at the Royal Athletic park and everybody is requested to be on hand. Only those that attend the weekly work outs will grab berths on the club, and the management insist upon the players acting in shape for the big opening here on Victoria Day, when Westminster play here.

FINLAND STARTS OUT ON NEW PANAMA RUN

Former Atlantic Liner Left New York on Saturday for San Francisco

Inaugurating the new Panama-Pacific service between New York and San Francisco, the liner Finland sailed from the Hudson river on Saturday and is now heading for the Panama canal. The former trans-Atlantic flyer will be the first passenger ship operating on a regular schedule to pass through the big ditch. En route the Finland will call at Colon, Panama, San Diego and Los Angeles. She is due at the Golden Gate about May 18.

The company intends to maintain a monthly service between the east and west coast ports, and will operate the liner Kronland in conjunction with the Finland. Each of the ships has a net tonnage of 7,927, and besides being elegantly furnished throughout are speedy and fine seaboats. For some years they operated out of New York to the Old World. They will be used in the Panama trade until the business becomes so heavy as to warrant additional ships.

P. R. or G. T. P. roads, in order to obtain the best views of the Rockies.

NORWEGIAN SHIP AGGIE ASHORE ON SANTA ROSA ID.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 4.—The Norwegian ship Aggie, stranded upon Talcott Shoal, Santa Rosa Island, has four feet of water in her hold and is pounding badly, according to Ira Eaton, master of the launch Sea Wolf, which brought G. M. Anderson, a pilot of San Francisco, to the mainland. Eaton saw the ship at low tide yesterday. A five-foot tide flowed to-day, filling the ship's hold to a greater depth.

Anderson took the ship out, and owing to the heavy weather prevailing could not be dropped. He was on his way back to San Francisco.

Eaton said the Aggie appeared to be badly damaged and added that the gale blowing to-day would damage the vessel still more. The crew, excepting the captain and first officer, spent the night camped on Santa Rosa Island.

OIL-TANKER OLEUM DAMAGED IN STORM

Reaches Portland After Terrific Encounter Off Coast With Vile Gale

Portland, Ore., May 4.—With a portion of her bridge sailing carried away and two forward ventilators and flagstaff gone, the tanker Oleum arrived up to-day presenting a storm-beaten and battered appearance.

According to Captain Curtis the recent storm off the California coast was the worst he ever experienced.

The Oleum sailed from Port Harford last Thursday morning, running into the sale off Point Sur. The wind blew a hurricane from the northwest and lashed the sea into mountainous waves which broke over the vessel fore and aft, flooding the captain's cabin for hours. She was 43 hours and 45 minutes making the San Francisco light-ship.

The Oleum is discharging at Linton. Bee Said to Be in Distress.

Portland, Ore., May 4.—Flying distress signals, the steamer Bee, of San Francisco, was sighted off Tatoosh, Wash., to-day, according to a report received here by the United States weather bureau. The revenue cutter Snohomish has gone to her assistance.

The steamer Bee, reported in distress off Tatoosh to-day, left San Francisco April 20 with a cargo of merchandise for Seattle. She is owned by Fred Linderman, of San Francisco, lumber merchant. Her captain is John Wepman. Her tonnage is 375.

A dispatch received late this afternoon by the Times from Tatoosh stated that the signals the Bee was flying had been wrongly interpreted and that the vessel was not in distress.

SURVIVORS OF HILL LINER COMING HERE

Tamba Maru, Due Thursday, Has Some of Minnesota's Passengers on Board

San Francisco, May 4.—Filled with admiration for the bravery of the men and members of the crew, 49 survivors of the wrecked Hill liner Minnesota, among them prominent men and women, returning from Manila and the Orient, arrived here to-day on the Manchuria, ending a journey that was filled with peril and the thrills of adventure.

The Minnesota struck on the shore of an island in the Inland Sea, off the coast of China, on April 11, and for a time it appeared that all aboard were doomed. Wireless signals, however, brought help and a Japanese cruiser took off the passengers and carried them to Kobe. Other survivors shipped on the Tamba Maru for Seattle.

With every indication that the huge vessel will be back in active service in another three weeks, the Minnesota, which was floated Friday from a rocky ledge at the entrance to the Inland Sea, was drydocked on Sunday in Nagasaki, Japan. Advice received from Capt. Thomas W. Garlick, master of the liner, estimated that the repairs to the ship will mean a delay of only 20 days at Nagasaki.

The Japanese salvage company, of Kobe, floated the vessel by resorting to dynamite. Under the terms of the contract the salvage company will receive $100,000.

On her next voyage from Seattle to the Orient the Minnesota will have a capacity cargo, most of it destined for Vladivostok. The cargo will rank as the greatest ever carried by any vessel from this port. Tremendous quantities of manufactured goods and products are seeking shipment through the Sound port to Vladivostok, and the services of the Minnesota are badly needed, especially because of the shortage of ships.

HUGE CARGO COMING ON YOKOHAMA MARU

Nippon Liner Left Yokohama With 1,208 Tons of Freight for Victoria

Bringing the heaviest cargo since the great inward rush from the Orient early last winter, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru, Capt. Komatsubara, is now steaming across the Pacific, having sailed from Yokohama on April 29. In her holds are 1,208 tons of freight which will be discharged at the ocean docks. Of late the Nippon ships have been bring in cargoes varying from 400 to 800 tons, and it was with some surprise that the stevedores learned this morning that the Yokohama had such a heavy shipment.

The Yokohama is scheduled to berth at this port on Thursday of next week. Besides a full cargo she has a heavy list of passengers. Fifty travelers, mostly Japanese, will disembark at this port, and 127 are booked through to Seattle.

Aki Maru Sailing.

At 5:30 o'clock this afternoon the steamship Aki Maru, Capt. Noma, is steaming from this port for the Orient. She was half an hour later clearing from Seattle this morning, but regained the time during the run across the Sound. A fair list of saloon and steerage passengers is going out on the Aki, including the following: H. F. Hawley, of the American Embassy at Tokio, who has been on an extended tour; two Milwaukee physicians, Dr. L. E. Butler and H. E. Blunt; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ballman, prominent in the tea exporting business at Shanghai, and Mrs. Amy Graves and daughter, of Los Angeles, tourists. Twenty Japanese and Hindus will embark at this port.

Makura in Thursday.

There is a report that the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Phillips, will berth at the outer docks on Thursday afternoon. No official radiogram has been received from the ship, and owing to the prevailing northwest weather off the coast, it is likely that she may not make William Head until Thursday night or the following morning.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR SCHOOL WARDEN

Impressive Tribute to Late Capt. Harvey by Rev. W. W. Bolton

Impressive memorial services were held yesterday at the University School for Capt. R. V. Harvey, late warden, whose name now stands on the empire's roll of honor. Rev. W. W. Bolton, warden of the school during Capt. Harvey's association as master in that institution, conducted the service, and later paid a glowing tribute to the soldier who had sacrificed his life so gallantly in the defence of his country.

Courtesy and honorable dealing in all things had given Capt. Harvey more than ordinary claim to the title of gentleman. Straight dealing had been a very passion, and in everything he was unselfish. In the very building of the school itself this last trait had meant much to the comfort and convenience of the students were introduced through his suggestion which might otherwise have been neglected. Out of his own pocket he had given the miniature covered in rifle range. The Cadet Corps of the school was a monument to his interest and enthusiasm in cadet training. Even the 88th Fusiliers owed much to him. The University School had hardly a single department which did not owe something to him. One of his hopes, not yet achieved for the University, had been the building of a chapel.

Underneath it all was a strong patriot. He was one of the first to volunteer for service after the war broke out. And they knew that he died game, with his face to the foe.

At the close of the service Mr. Bolton played the "Dead March in Saul," all the school standing as a mark of respect to Capt. Harvey. The boy choir sang "Brief Life is Here Our Portion" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

FRIENDLY HELP MEETS

Alderman Porter Present Representing City at To-day's Gathering—Many Families Helped.

There was a meeting of the Friendly Help association this morning, at which about fifteen members were present. The president was in the chair, and welcomed Alderman Porter, who was present at the meeting representing the city.

During the meeting a number of interesting matters were discussed. An invitation was read from the National Conference of Charities and Correction to be held in Baltimore on May 12-13. As it was impossible for any member of the association to attend the conference as a delegate, it was decided to send the necessary subscription for the minutes of the conference in order that the members might benefit from the deliberations of that body.

Regret was expressed by the meeting at the resignation of Mrs. C. J. Roper, owing to the departure this month for Ottawa of Bishop Roper.

An interesting little letter was read from Edna Steele, Mildred Moore, and Amy Hawkins, who with some other small girls had held a concert in aid of the Friendly Help association recently. A cheque for $5.25 was enclosed, this being the proceeds of the entertainment.

The secretary reported that during April 125 families had been assisted, this being a considerable drop from the previous month. The number included 16 new appeals.

The following contributions were acknowledged: Cash from the city, the Hon. James Dunsmuir, W. B. A. Ritchie, Vancouver; Miss McGee, A. Sincere, Friend, the Bishop of Columbia, Victoria; Patriotic Aid society, proceeds from a concert, given by the Misses Edna Steele, Mildred Moore, Annie Hawkins, and others; Mr. Hargrave, King's Road school, A. Friend, Mrs. Jacob, Mrs. Stewart Williams, Mrs. Turnbull, Oaklands Grocery, G. D. Christie, and B. W. Grant.

Clothing from Mrs. H. J. Scott, Mrs. R. A. Brown, Mrs. P. Dill, Miss Newcombe, Mrs. deB. Green, Miss Carroll, Mrs. J. Pemberton, Mrs. Huddleston, Women's Institute, Metcoshin, Mr. Williams, Mrs. S. J. Martin, Miss Burris, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. Ready, Mrs. Store (Bosworth Station), Miss Rennie, Mrs. J. Angus, Mrs. Colquhoun, Mrs. Umbrecht, Mrs. R. Burns, Mrs. Bagshaw, Mrs. M. B. MANY AT FUNERAL

Remains of Frederick Dangerfield Laid at Rest Yesterday; A. O. F. Services.

The funeral of the late Frederick Dangerfield took place yesterday at 2:30 p. m. from the family residence, 1421 Vancouver street, a large number of the deceased's friends being present. The cortege proceeded to Christ church, cathedral, where the venerable Archdeacon Scriven, who also conducted part of the services at the cemetery, took charge of the services. The choir, of which Mr. Dangerfield's son is a member, met the casket at the church door and preceded it up the aisle. The Ninetieth Psalm was sung during the services, also the hymn: "Rock of Ages." At the grave-side A. O. F. services were also conducted by J. Mc-

VALUABLE DATA ON LABOR EXCHANGES

Acting Superintendent of Labor Bureau Makes Suggestion on Situation

There are about 2,972 names registered at the Central Employment bureau now. The public is only giving a measure of support to the need for supplying casual employment, and the acting superintendent would be glad of a much greater response.

In his memorandum to the aldermen, submitted to assist in the decision as to the future of the bureau, Mr. Winkel says:

"I might add, gentlemen, that at the present moment we have registered at this office 1,000 married men and bona fide residents whose earnings in the past six months have barely fed them, and who find themselves sinking day by day, with the immediate future offering no promise of better conditions, while the security of these men is gradually becoming less and less."

In a carefully reasoned argument on the subject he points out that public bodies spend freely to collect and distribute information to merchants as to available markets for commerce, whereas the duty of the state and city to collect and distribute information about labor and available markets has only recently been recognized.

"What the city and government," he says, "does freely for the commercial world they scarcely do at all for the labor world, and even when they are grudgingly forced by the misery of the laborer to do something, it is done out as a charity and fears are expressed that such action will deteriorate the workmen." Can we wonder that our times are out of joint when we expect that peddling labor with his pack can keep pace with commerce flying by in an automobile?

Mr. Winkel alludes to the evils of private employment agencies, and he refers to the extent of employment found for the men registered. Twelve hundred have been put to work, showing earnings aggregating over $16,000. Of this total only 24 per cent. has been placed with the city works, which shows that the casual labor amounts to $12,795 contributed by the public.

"Regarding the establishment for female employment in connection with the Central Employment and Relief bureau, it is found that an abnormal number of women have been thrown on the labor market in consequence of present conditions. Of the 298 registered in this office, 87 have children or parents dependent on their earnings to some extent; 42 while without children are obliged to assist their husbands on account of the scarcity of employment; 39 of their number in addition to those already mentioned, are widows or spinners, who are dependent upon their own efforts for making a livelihood; 18 store clerks and stenographers have registered as willing to take household work in consequence of present conditions. The balance are girls and young women by whom the bulk of household service is usually performed. Under these circumstances it is self-evident that there is insistent need for a reliable source of information, free of cost, to assist these women in securing work."

"Another aspect of the Women's Employment bureau is that it affords an avenue where women receiving help from the charities of the city can be found regular employment, thus taking them off the charity list."

The memorandum is attached an outline of the suggested policy of labor exchanges, first defining its objects, and then dealing in detail with labor, relief, and management.

The whole report is a model among civic documents, and it is seldom that the field is so completely covered as in this report of the acting superintendent.

Kerlie, chief ranger of Court Northern Light. The Foresters attended in a body, and others present included the janitors and carpenters and other employees from the government buildings.

There were a great many beautiful floral tributes from personal friends and various organizations with which the deceased was directly or indirectly associated. The pallbearers were: Bros. J. Henley, T. C. Smith and D. J. Macdonald, of the A. O. F., and Messrs. J. Meldrum, W. Gatt and R. Gillow.

J. E. P. McPHERSON WOUNDED AT YPRES

More Victorians in Latest Casualty Lists; Pte. Kirk Missing

Lance-Corpl. Joseph Edward Proctor McPherson, of the 16th Battalion, is among the wounded in the Ypres action. McPherson, who is the son of Mrs. Stearnman, of Skinner street, was one of the five boys from the High school who left with the troops at the beginning of the war. A member of the 50th Gordon Highland Regiment, he left here in August for Valenciennes, where he was given his stripes as Lance-Corpl. He was only 17 years of age, but an exceptionally bright lad, and very popular with his school fellows and the men of his regiment. Of the other four lads from the High school who left here at the time, only one, Milloy, has been listed among the casualties.

McPherson was a native son, and a grandson of the late William Newman, a very well-known old-timer. An excellent shot, he was a member of the High School Cadet Corps for some time, and was keenly interested in athletics. The cable announcing that he was wounded was received last evening by Mrs. Stearnman.

Private William Waage-Mott, news of whose wounding in the recent action was received by his wife in a telegram, was in the real estate business in this city for some time. A native of Birmingham, England, he received his education in that country, and was with the Warwickshire Yeomanry for some time, also with the R. H. A., and with the 3rd South Midland Brigade. For a little more than three years he had lived in Victoria, and was married in this city, his wife living at Esquimalt road. He left with the first Canadian forces which went out from Victoria in August, being a member of the 50th Highlanders.

Lieut. F. W. Polhempton, a member of the Royal Flying Corps whose name appeared among those in the British casualty lists on Sunday, was a brother-in-law of H. B. Sims, assistant divisional engineer for the C. P. R. at Vancouver. His wife is a daughter of the late Dr. J. C. Davis, of Victoria.

Lieut. Polhempton had resided in this city for a short time before leaving for England. He will be remembered as having made a very daring flight over the Canadian camp at Salisbury some months ago, attaining an altitude of 5,300 feet.

Private Gerald Minnis, who is among the wounded, lived at 1228 Oak Bay avenue. He was a native of England. For two years he was in the circulation department of the Colonist, his education was received at South Park school. Last June he joined the 50th Highland Regiment, and left with members of that unit last August for Valenciennes.

Private J. F. G. Kirk, missing, was well known in Victoria. He went with the Seaforth Highlanders, of Vancouver, to Valenciennes at the outbreak of the war, but prior to that had been connected for some time with the Stancand company and the Dunlop Rubber company, Wharf street. At one time he was assistant scoutmaster to one of the troops in Victoria. He came to British Columbia from England.

Private Fred Elworthy, of Wounded, is son of F. Elworthy, of 59 Menzies street. Official confirmation of the fact that he was wounded was received yesterday by his father in a telegram from Ottawa.

Lieut. G. H. Leslie, wounded, was at one time purser on boats of the Union Steamship company. Later he was cartoonist for the Province, Vancouver.

Private W. H. Cresswell, of the 7th Battalion, C. E. F., reported wounded, has been residing on the island for some time and has had a poultry ranch on the Bench road, Cowichan station. He volunteered at the outbreak of the war and went away with the first contingent.

Private E. M. Ankettell-Jones, only son of P. W. Ankettell-Jones, Cheamus, has been slightly wounded. He was one of the first from Cowichan to join the 50th Gordon Highlanders here and proceeded to the front with the 16th Battalion, Canadian Scottish.

Major A. T. Hunter, Toronto, of the 4th Battalion, C. E. F., whose name is among the list of those wounded, is a younger brother of Chief Justice Hunter.

Victoria Council.—A meeting of the Victoria council, No. 2, Royal Templar of Temperance, will be held at the home of Mrs. Yeo, Green street, on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

MORE STREET CARS GO ON ALL THE ROUTES

Traffic Officials of B. C. E. Railway Working on a New Time Table

The reduction in the fares which was announced by the B. C. Electric Railway company yesterday afternoon will be accompanied by an increase in the frequency of the service, as was to be expected.

With the falling off of the patronage of the cars when the sale of tickets was discontinued last year it became necessary to lay off several cars, as it was not profitable to operate the full service as at that time.

There will now be a better service than ever before, Manager Goward stated to-day. The details of this are being worked out by the traffic department, a complicated matter, as there will be more cars put on and the service will be more frequent than it was prior to the diminished service of the last few months.

It is promised that on Fort street there will be a car available every three minutes or so, which is a great improvement, and that on all the routes the company will endeavor to meet the needs of the traffic with an accelerated service.

WILL INTERN ALIENS

Destitute Foreigners to Be Sent to Detention Camp at Vernon.

Chief Langley had a conference yesterday afternoon with Major Ridgway Wilson, who is in charge of aliens on Vancouver island. As a result eighteen aliens, mostly destitute Austrians, were to-day sent to the detention camp at Vernon, where they will be interned for the duration of the war.

Probably others will be sent to the camp from time to time and this will relieve the city of the responsibility of caring for these men, the majority of whom have worked here, if at all, for only a short time.

Since the closing down of work on the rock pile the aliens who were employed there have been living on what little money they had, but this has become exhausted and some of them have been close to starvation. Within the past week the chief of police has been called upon by several men who were at the end of their resources, and to each he gave an order for a few days' board, but the resources at his command for this purpose are not extensive.

There appears to be a number of foreigners coming into the city from outside points, some of whom have been engaged on railway construction work. They appeal to the mayor or the chief of police for assistance, but hereafter they will be turned over to the care of the Dominion government.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late John Andrew Deans, whose death occurred on April 28, took place yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock from his parents' residence, 524 John street. There was a large attendance of friends and many beautiful flowers covered the little casket. Rev. Dr. Scott officiated, and the pallbearers were Messrs. J. Cruickshank, W. Landy, T. Landy and W. Gough.

The funeral of Ross Allen, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Allen, of 2957 Crescent road, took place this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Fowl Bay Mission church, where the Rev. W. H. Dowe officiated.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital of Mrs. Candace Casandra Bennett. The deceased lady was 64 years of age, and had been in Victoria for the past year visiting her daughter, Mrs. Smith, of 828 Heywood avenue. She was the widow of the late O. R. Bennett, whose residence was at Dinuba, Cal. In addition to Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Bennett is survived by one other daughter, Mrs. G. N. Ray, of Dinuba; and two sons, M. A. and H. H. Bennett, both of Dinuba. The remains are being shipped to-morrow afternoon to California for interment there.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Florence Oppenheimer, whose death occurred last week very suddenly at San Francisco, took place on Sunday afternoon from the residence of the deceased's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Leiser.

1065 St. Charles street, to the Jewish cemetery. Rev. H. J. Eklund conducted the services, which were attended by a very large number of the deceased lady's friends. Beautiful floral tributes covered the casket, and filled the hearse. The pallbearers were Messrs. O. Pearson, F. Landsberg, C. F. Gardner, H. Macklin, Roy McIntosh and A. E. Hinem (of Vancouver).

The death occurred this morning at the Jubilee hospital of Dan Hui, aged twenty-six. The man was a Roumanian and had been ill in the hospital for two months. Nothing is known, about him here, and he does not appear to have any friends in the province. The body is at the undertaking parlors of the B. C. Funeral company.

The remains of Max Houdermann, whose death occurred on May 2 at Sooke, as the result of drowning, were brought to Victoria last evening. They are now at the Victoria Funeral parlors. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

Los Angeles, May 4.—Ed. Walsh, pitcher on the Chicago American league team who has been here all spring trying to get his arm into shape, is seriously ill. His physician diagnosed his case as grippe, but the big pitcher when seen by friends to-day, was found to have a high fever.

"New," said the Principal, to one of the pupils at the close of the lesson in which he had touched on the horrors of war, "do you object to war, my boy?" "Yes, sir, I do," was the fervent answer. "Now tell us why." "Because," said the youth, "war make history, an' I jest hate history."

DEFINED STRENGTH IS MANIFEST IN STOCKS

Granby Decline Arrested This Morning and Investors Step In

Lucky Jim Zinc, Coronation and Standard Lead showed well defined strength, and Granby, recently subject to bear onslaughts, steadied in good style. Nothing of note pertained to the list otherwise and outside interest had no aggressive tendency.

Moderate buying of Portland Canal around the 11c-12c level is apparent in an unofficial way, but so far as exchange transactions are concerned this issue moves quietly. Action in Granby was closely followed, the reasonable setback in price inducing some investment purchases.

LAST PRICES OF WHEAT WERE ONE-HALF CENT UP

Chicago, May 4.—After backing and filling for some time, with no important development to force the market either one way or the other, the bulls came out ahead in the Chicago wheat pit. Approximately, last prices were one-half above Monday's finish. Now and again quotations were soft, but inspiration for genuine bear pressure was actually slim. The weather bureau lent every encouragement, this being offset by goodly purchases for long account on each temporary dip.

THE DAY'S TRADING ON WINNIPEG MARKET

Winnipeg, May 4.—Winnipeg wheat futures opened to the lower, oats to the lower and unchanged, and flax to the higher, compared with Saturday's closing figures. The outlook for the coming crop continues bright, according to reports coming in, and this caused a more bearish sentiment. About noon May was 16 1/2, July 16 1/2, and Oct. 15 1/2, which was a decline of 1/2, 1/2, and 1/2, respectively from the opening points. Low grades of oats were wanted, while contract grades were not inquired for. Nos. 1 and 2 feed were those in request most, but offerings were limited and not equal to the demand. Barley and flax in cash lines were slow.

In the cash department there was no conspicuous activity. There was an inquiry for No. 2 northern wheat and not enough offerings to supply the demand. Nos. 1 and 2 grade offerings were heavy and spreads widening out. Oats was firmer in sympathy with the American markets. The total inspections on Monday were 345 cars, of which 268 cars were wheat and 46 oats. In sight to-day were 15 cars.

Later it was found that some new export sales had been worked out for June delivery, which probably accounted for the action of May option prices.

Winnipeg wheat futures closed 1/2 higher to 1/2 lower, cash closed 1/2 to 1/2 higher, and flax closed 1/2 higher on 1 N. W. C.

MONTREAL STOCKS

(Supplied by McDougall & Cowans.)
Montreal, May 4.—The market at the close to-day was fairly strong with the war stocks showing substantial advances over yesterday's closing quotations. Dominion Bridge was in the limelight, although it opened lower than the previous close, it soon began to climb and touched 133, at which price it closed. The large war stock which this company has secured is the bullish factor in its advance.

Other issues to attract attention were Nova Scotia Steel, another war favored concern which closed at 67 1/2, after opening at 66. Canadian Car Foundry was active.

Montreal Power's slight reaction from last night's close marks the stock as an investment purchase with the highest type, commensurate with safety. Cedars Rapids bonds were in demand at 95 1/2.

Closing prices were at the best levels of the day.

Tokio, May 4.—Japan has issued an ultimatum to China, giving that country 48 hours in which to reply.

The reply that is required of China is an answer to Japan's demands, Group Four of which has just been rejected by China on the ground that it impairs the sovereignty of China. The negotiations have been in progress for many weeks, Lu Cheng Hsiang being the chief representative for China and Eki Hioki being the chief representative for Japan.

Need for Union.
Rev. Mr. Chadwick dealt on the power of and need for church union in facing the problems of the day. Outward unity might be far distant, but there were being laid to-day the foundations on which, in God's good time, that edifice would be raised. The churches might take a lesson from the allies in united and concerted action against the enemies which beset mankind. At the moment the nation was involved in war, the issues of which were in the hands of God, and there was a call to Christians, especially in Canada, to be more true to their Christianity than ever before, to strive more than ever to perform the duties earnestly and truly.

Rev. Mr. Speight spoke of the pleasant associations he had had with Presbyterians in his college days in Aberdeen. He accepted the invitation to be present as an expression of sympathy and brotherly love. Whatever differences of creed, they all could meet on the common ground of unity of purpose in testifying to the sanctity of religion. The church was a society of men and women, setting a higher value on the higher things of life, worshipping God in every deed without regard to creed, color or race, and joining in steadfastly believing and declaring that equal opportunity should be given to every man to enjoy the fruits of his labors. The aspirations poised in praise and prayer within the church, quickening and confirming spiritual purposes, should pass outside the walls and in purity of politics, in consecration of commerce, in new earnestness of civic life, in idealism of education, in exaltation of the home, made for the greater future for which all prayed.

Mr. Witham brought greetings from the Y. M. C. A.—an organization closely allied with the church in all its work, and in the course of his remarks spoke of the large attendance of men at church services in this city.

Reeve McGregor told a little of the work of the building committee, among the members of which there had been much unanimity despite differences of opinion.

J. G. Brown, secretary of the committee, gave some particulars of the cost of the building. The old church was sold for $80,000 and the present site was purchased for $26,750, and plans were prepared by J. C. M. Keith for the magnificent building in which they were. The schoolroom was opened for service on May 11, 1913 at a cost of $2,825, and $70.50 architect's fees; the excavation for the main building cost $2,825 and $70.50 architect's fees; the building cost $52,874 and $1,329.35 for fees; the heating plant $2,170; seating and pulpit furniture $4,000, and $619.75 architect's fees, and there was paid to the clerk of works $1,250. The total cost, with the site, was thus $127,000.

250.10.

Mr. Brown referred to the re-engraving of the old cornerstone.

Hon. Mr. Bowser expressed his appreciation of the new building and of the sterling qualities of Mr. Inkster, whom he had learned to know on the gold links. From his knowledge of the province he was able to praise the work done by the pioneer missionaries throughout the province, and the help that was given to the authorities by pastors and people in preserving the law in outlying districts.

Mr. Brewster said that where any religious body found it had to have larger space for the development of its activities it was to its credit, and this credit must be apportioned among the whole body from the pastor through the church officers down to the least of the membership. Too much had

pastors, and the churches were not reaching the masses as they should.

Just as a congregation grew in prosperity its responsibilities increased.

The Founder of the church had not stated explicitly what the form of church government should be, but considered that the mentality and loyalty of his followers to the basic truths of Christianity would be such that they would evolve the form best fitted to their days and times. The churches were not being utilized to their fullest advantages, and much of their talent for good and opportunities for work were going to waste. In civic and political life they were not doing as much as they ought to accomplish. If they really meant business no power could stop the membership of that and every other church when it started out to achieve some reform. This same spirit would permeate the legislature and be reflected there to the good of the people and the greater glory of the God whom all served.

The proceedings closed with the singing of the doxology. Later, most of those present inspected the church

premises and the fine accommodation in the basement, where the building committee is anxious to complete and equip a gymnasium. The acoustics of the auditorium of the church were well tested last night, and proved to be perfect. Not a word of any of the varying tones, and modulations of the voices of the speakers being lost.
